

I am opposed to the proposal to limit the ability of satellite radio to provide some localized content. IF it were the case that there was a danger of a content provider becoming a monopoly or limiting the ability of others to compete in the market place, legislation would be in order. This is clearly NOT the case with satellite radio. Local radio stations need to learn to compete by providing content that consumers want instead of relying on campaign contributions and lobbyists to maintain their position through legislation.